

Record your demo!

Have a great song but not sure how to go about recording it? Maybe you write songs but can't play an instrument, or maybe you need a singer. Brigitte offers quality one or two instrument demo recordings! Whether you want to participate or not, your song can be recorded as a demo and will be emailed to you in .wav, .mp3 files or sent on CD. You can also request a karaoke version (music only) of the song if you would like to be able to sing to it. If you have musical talent or can sing and want to record tracks yourself, the studio is located in Summerland, BC. The song will be a one or two instrument demo. Less is more to feature the song. Once recorded, you may use it to showcase your talent, enter contests, obtain grants to expand the production, or post online. If you're planning on selling downloads or CDs, credits should be given to all who participated. You still own 100% of the song. Email b@brigittemusic.com for questions and quote or click the "Contact" page at BrigitteMusic.com

Checklist ✓

✓ Make sure the song is complete

✓ Make sure you own the copyright- meaning you wrote it yourself without using any parts of other existing songs or you and your co-writers agree to have the song recorded.

✓ Print your lyrics, bring them on a flash drive or have them ready to email

✓ Decide on the pre-production- are you playing guitar or do you want Brigitte to play the piano? Do you need a vocalist- male or female? (Some of the best songs are never realized because of a weak vocal or sloppy playing)

✓ Be open minded- you may think you're a pretty great guitarist, but if you can't keep time to a metronome or can't play that C# minor chord your song needs, recording may not be your forte yet. Let professionals give your song a polished sound that will be acceptable by industry standards.